

2025 Christmas Message

From the Most Illustrious Grand Master of Royal and Select Masters of the Grand Council of Georgia.

John C. Miller

To all Companions of Georgia, their families, and their loved ones—greetings to you as we once again celebrate the joyous season of Christmas. May the light of this sacred holiday fill your hearts with warmth, love, and peace and our blessed hope in Jesus Christ. The birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, is a time for reflection, prayer, and gratitude, as we remember the profound gift given to all mankind.

I offer prayers for you and your family, and all our companions as we embrace the hope and promise of the Christmas season.

Let us also reflect on the miracle of Jesus birth—the fulfillment of prophecy and a divine gift of salvation. Born to humble parents in a small stable, our Lord Jesus entered this world in the most oddest of circumstances. Yet, His arrival marked the beginning of a new era of grace, mercy, and redemption for all who would believe. As we reflect on this profound moment, we are reminded of the responsibilities we carry as Royal and Select Masters to uphold these same virtues in our own lives.

Companions, I challenge you to put on the Whole Armour of God as you gather with your loved ones this Christmas, I encourage you to rejoice in the light of Christ and to share His message of love and hope with all those around you. Let us raise our hearts in gratitude for the blessings of this year and the opportunities that lie ahead in the new year.

In the spirit of brotherhood and unity, I propose a toast to each of you: May your homes be filled with the love of Jesus Christ, and may you walk confidently in His light. To the glory of God and to the everlasting bond we share as companions, I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a blessed New Year!

Holiness to the Lord, and Peace on Earth to all.
